240-Hour Visa-Free Transit in China

China is implementing a 10-day (240 hours) visa-free transit policy. The transit program allows visitors who have existing flight bookings from China to a third country (region) to snag a visa on arrival at a Chinese airport (port) and stay for 10 days before departure. Hong Kong, Macao and Taiwan all count as third destinations.

Passport holders of 54 countries, including the United States and the United Kingdom, can enter visa-free through any of the 60 open airports (ports) in 24 provincial regions, covering popular tourist cities like Beijing, Shanghai, Xi'an, Chengdu and Guangzhou.

Day 1 Beijing

Sky Walk)

Shougang Park used to be the cradle and powerhouse of Beijing steel industry. Today, sci-fi elements, trendy sports, unmanned technology, and the footprints of the Winter Olympic Games can all be found in the renovated site. Renamed Shougang Industrial Park, it is taking on a new look and has become one of the must-see places in Beijing.

Enjoy the 3.2-kilometer-long Shougang Skywalk, which is the world's longest skywalk, more than three times longer than the High Line in New York City.

The Big Air jump platform, resembling a high-heeled shoe, is also a landscape sculpture. It is the world's first Big Air jump platform for permanent use. You will get a bird's eye view from the top of the "Big Air". Past the Big Air jump platform is the iconic No. 3 Blast Furnace and the Starbucks coffee shop converted from a power station is also a must-see place.

Service ends.
